3 June 2019—5 June 2019

The BSCI is a multi-professional society for all those interested in and practicing cardiovascular imaging. The society aims to:

Promote the highest standards of practice of cardiovascular imaging in general and particularly cardiovascular CT in the British Isles.

Promote the exchange of information, education and training in all aspects of cardiovascular imaging.

Advise the Royal College of Radiologists and British Cardiovascular Society about cardiovascular imaging matters and lead on the national development of all aspects of cardiovascular CT.

The BSCI is a society that is driven by its members. Membership benefits include:

- We act as the national special interest group for cardiovascular computed tomography (as the British Society of Cardiovascular CT (BSCCT) within the BSCI).
- Annual meeting dedicated to cardiovascular imaging
- Core training courses in cardiovascular computed tomography and advanced cardiovascular imaging.
- Educational material including recorded lectures, interesting cases, and the "Image of the Month" competition.
- Access to accreditation and revalidation in CCTA
- Supporting research and audit through both grants and facilitation of studies via the societies infra-structure.
- Our Society welcomes membership from medical and non-medical specialists and generalists with a cardiac imaging interest and encourages membership from trainees as well as senior practitioners.
