

Hot topics and controversies in Cardiac Imaging

16 November 2009

The Geological Society, Piccadilly, London

- | | |
|---------------|--|
| 9.00 - 9.30 | Registration & coffee |
| 9.30 – 9.35 | Welcome
Dr Charles Peebles, Southampton General Hospital |
| 9.35 – 10.05 | Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathies
Dr Rory O'Hanlon, Consultant Cardiologist, Royal Brompton Hospital |
| 10.05 – 10.35 | Dilated cardiomyopathies
Dr Sanjay Prasad, Consultant Cardiologist, Royal Brompton Hospital |
| 10.35 – 11.00 | ARVC and other cardiomyopathies
Dr James Moon, Consultant Cardiologist, UCLH |
| 11.00 – 11.30 | Coffee |
| 11.30 – 11.50 | The role of cross-sectional imaging in Aortic stenosis with poor LV function
Dr Matthias Schmitt, Consultant Cardiologist, Wythenshawe Hospital |
| 11.50 – 12.10 | The role of cross-sectional imaging in percutaneous aortic valve replacement.
Dr Mark Hamilton, Consultant Radiologist, Bristol Royal Infirmary |
| 12.10 – 12.30 | The role of cross sectional imaging in pericardial disease
Dr Charles Peebles, Consultant Radiologist, Southampton General Hospital |
| 12.30 – 1.00 | Myocardial Oedema and 'myocardium at risk'
Dr Rick Steeds, Consultant Cardiologist, University of Hospital Birmingham |
| 1.00 – 2.00 | Lunch |
| 2.00 – 2.20 | The low/intermediate risk patient: who should we CT and how?
Dr Gareth Morgan-Hughes, Consultant Cardiologist, Derriford Hospital |
| 2.20 – 2.40 | Cardiac CT in the high risk patient: should we do it in patients with established IHD, stents, grafts and high calcium burden?
Dr Francesca Pugliese, Consultant Radiologist, Royal Brompton Hospital |
| 2.40 – 3.00 | Cardiac CT in acute chest pain assessment: Who, where and when?
Dr Simon Padley, Consultant Radiologist, Chelsea and Westminster Hospital |
| 3.00 – 3.30 | Tea |
| 3.30 – 3.50 | β blockade: who, when and how?
Dr Giles Roditi, Consultant Radiologist, Glasgow Royal Infirmary |
| 3.50 – 4.10 | CT perfusion and scar imaging – should we do it?
Dr James Stirrup, Clinical Research Fellow, Royal Brompton Hospital |

4.10 – 4.15

Closing remarks and meeting close